

First, a quick reverse image search reveals the place in the photo is Hotel Casa Capsa.

But how do we figure out the location? And what do we even express it in? Coordinates?

Well, the 3 meter part of the description looked interesting to me. It reminded me of <https://what3words.com/>. This website defines 3x3 meter squares using 3 words, and since the description seems to be obsessed with 3, it can be safely assume we need to use this. Also, make sure to use it in English, not any other language.

Next, I found Hotel Casa Capsa and looked around. It's a place across the street, which from the description is likely a hotel. Hotel Capitol looked like the only one, so I started to try 3x3 meters squares that are in the Capitol Hotel, which are also at the windows (or near the street basically).

After a few attempts, I found `///greeting.visual.stables` to work.

Made with love by: AndreiCat