The password checker reveals each character from the password is checked against 0xF3 XOR each character from a predefined array. To find the password, we need to xor each character from that predefined array with 0xF3. With the help of chatgpt I extracted the values and used CyberChef to decrypt:

Made with love by: AndreiCat